FORREST CAVALRY.

On October 17 it is planned to reproduce in the city of Memphis, as nearly as possible, that fearless band which helped to make the name and fame of General Nathan Bedford Forrest immortal.

There will be no frills and furbelows. There will be no band wagon in the parade. There will be no sponsors and maids of honor. The parade will consist of the mounted survivors of Forrest's Cavalry, formed in line of march as they were formed so often in the stirring days of yore, going forward to do their duty.

It will be simply a band of Confederate cavalymen upon the march. Of all the division and brigade commanders that served with Forrest there are but four now living. General F. C. Armstrong, H. B. Lyon and Colonels Edmund R. Rucker and D. C. Kelley, all of whom will be in the parade at the head of their old commands. It may be the last time the old veterans will thus assemble.

Let every man who, during the war served under Forrest, come to Memphis and take part in the parade. Horses will be provided.

All the railroads will place on sale October 15, 16 and 17, good until October 31, round trip tickets at one fare plus 25 cents.

As there was no man to lag behind when the great commander gave the word "Forward," let there be none now decline to come.

There is but one woman to whom the troop will give place upon this occasion, Miss Emma Sanson, the girl who piloted General Forrest during his pursuit of Streight. A led horse, suitably caparisoned and saddled with a woman's saddle, will be placed near the head of the column in her honor.

The widows, wives and daughters of all old Forrest veterans are cordially invited to come, to whom special honor and respect will be shown.

ABSCESS.

Abscesses, with few exceptions, are indicative of constipation or debility.

W. H. Harrison of Cleveland, Miss., writes, August 15, 1902: "I want to say a word of praise for Ballard's Snow Liniment. I stepped on a nail, which caused the cords in my legs to contract and an abscess to rise in my knee, and the doctor told me that I would have a stiff leg, so one day I went to J. F. Lord's drugstore, (who is now in Denver, Colo.) He recommended a bottle of Snow Liniment; I got a 50 cent size, and it cured my leg. It is the best liniment in the world." Sold by the Fry Drug Co.

NEW UNCLE REMUS STORIES BY JOEL CHANDLER HARRIS

South Recognized by Southern Newspaper in Departure from the old Comic Supplements.

Joel Chandler Harris, the loveable Southern writer, who has given to the world Uncle Remus, is about to receive substantial recognition in a new form. The Memphis News Scimitar announces the closing of a deal by which it will be able to publish exclusively in this territory, beginning Sunday, June 24, a series of new Uncle Remus stories, illustrated in colors by Artist Conde, who has drawn the pictures for the Uncle Remus books of the past.

This is a step in the right direction for comic supplements which are devoid of any objectionable features, yet are amusing and instructive to the young and interesting to grown people. It is also a source of congratulation to the South, whose merit is being more and more recognized.

THE CHRONICLE office is located in the Fry building upstairs over the store of J. J. Weatherly.
